TEA

Unusual Demand For Common Tea

Adulteration Has Deterrent Effect

Japanese Must Reduce Prices

The outstanding feature of the tea market during the past month has been the unusually large demand for common tea from China and the consequent high prices paid. Despite the falling off in quality and leaf appearance of late arrivals all grades of black tea, with the exception of a small stock of choice Keemun, have met with a ready reception. Both the United States and Europe have been persistent buyers of black tea throughout last month, and the purchasing on these accounts still continues in the Shanghai market. The bulk of the trading has no doubt been confined to common tea, which has been well sought after.

Stocks of desirable teas such as Ningchows, Keemuns and the better grade Hankow teas are very light at present, but as tea these grades are infinitely better value even at the proportionately better price. The advance, however, in the better grades has not been as marked as it has been in the lower grades. It is worthy of mention that the Chinese speculators recognising the demand for the lowest grades had bought large quantities of these and had held them for a rise, which they have succeeded in securing.

The London teamen are speaking glibly of a probable shortage of tea this year and point in support to the statistical position in Britain, where stocks for the past two years have been reduced at the rate of a million pounds a week. It is argued that even if the world's tea crop this year is equal to that of last year there must be a scarcity.

Country tea greens have been dealt in steadily all along, more especial preference being shown towards the commoner grades. Gunpowders continue to be neglected while the finer grade Chun Mee has declined two to three taels. Some 24,000 half-chests have been settled in good medium and lowest quality Chun Mee and Sow Mees. The market for these is lower, about two taels cheaper than they were in July. From the peak point the decline has been about five taels, the inquiry for these is restricted at present. As regards the Chun Mee grade there is a good deal of adulteration still practised by teamen, and this is causing buyers to be reluctant to purchase.

Rather more interest is now being shown in Pingsueys, and settlements during the past ten days in these have amounted to some twelve chops. After a period of inaction the market has declined about a tael for the earlier chops and up to a tael-and-a-half for the more inferior grades. There is a good demand for the lower grade Pingsueys, and this has been aided by the speculative purchases of Chinese, assisted by Bombay merchants, which has served to send values up. With the increased consignments now coming into Shanghai from the districts there should be less opportunity to force prices up, while many in the trade anticipate lower quotations shortly.

Very common second and third crop Shuntans unquestionably inferior to the United States Government standard are being settled today at Tls 23 and Tls. 24, which basis forms the lowest point of the market. From May 1 till July 30 this year Chekiang sent down to Shanghai no less than 95,694 cases of Chekiang tea.

The second Japanese tea crop this year has not been as uniform as in an average season. Shizuoka, Kyoto, Saitama and Kyushu districts in Japan have been looking forward to a ten to 30 percent increase on last year's yield, while other districts are threatened with a decrease. When averaged, it is expected that the yield should show an increase of ten percent. The good crop is anticipated on the strength of abundant fertilisers applied, due to large profits derived from the first crop and unusually small damage from insects. The Japanese market is, however, dull and prices have fallen considerably since the first crop was placed on the market. A brisk market should show itself before long, since present quotations are such as will assure reasonable profits in the export trade. The suggestions outlined by the Department of Agriculture and Commerce with a view to promoting export trade has not satisfied those in the tea trade in Japan. In its opinion the Japanese Government must give some substantial help if the authorities are really concerned for the prosperity of the industry, though it must be confessed that for the diminished interest abroad the Japanese exporters are partly to blame. At present the market in Japan is glutted in such a degree that it is hardly possible to fix anything like

Salandra And Politis Argue Case Before League Council

SITUATION GRAVE

Covenant Of League Must Stand, Says Lord Cecil

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 5.—Today's proceedings of the Council of the League are regarded as the most important ever held. They were conducted in a larger hall than the previous sittings, which was crowded to suffocation. The delegates to the Assembly of the League and the general public were breathless with interest when Signor Salandra opened the proceedings by reading a letter making light of the bombardment of Corfu and casting aspersions on the conduct of the Corfiote authorities.

After that the Italian representative made a long statement, contending that as the murdered members of the Mission were appointed by the Ambassadors' Conference it was for the Conference and not the League of Nations to decide the issue. He asserted that Greece appealed to the League in order to escape the responsibilities of a barbarous act.

Signor Salandra affirmed that the Italian Government had no intention of recognising the authority of the League to intervene. It was the Italian Government's irrevocable opinion that the Council of the League should not proceed with the affair.

Viscount Ishii proposed an adjournment till tomorrow.

Lord Robert Cecil agreed, but asked that Articles X, XII and XV of the Covenant of the League be read in French and English.

When this was done, Lord Robert Cecil remarked that these articles not merely contained the Treaty of Versailles, but the Treaties of Neuilly, St. Germain and the Trianon. If they were not taken into consideration then the bases of these Treaties would be shattered. (Cheers among the public which were instantly suppressed.)

It was noticed that Signor Salandra and M. Politis were in friendly conversation before the proceedings began.

After Signor Salandra's pronouncement, M. Politis explained the Greek case in an able speech which appeared favorably to impress the public without evoking any demonstration.

M. Politis repudiated the suggestion that Greece desired to escape responsibilities. He said that she urgently required an international enquiry in order to throw the fullest light on the affair and was ready to abide by the consequences of the enquiry. Seizure of pledges was unnecessary as both parties were members of the League.

Lord Robert Cecil, at whose insistence today's proceedings were open to the public, urged the Council to give its decision tomorrow so as to enable him to inform the Assembly immediately.

It is noteworthy that, while Signor Salandra contended that the creation of the League did not constitute renunciation of the rights of States to act in defence of their safety and dignity, he remarked that the authority of the League of Nations, which the Italian Government did not intend disowning, must be maintained and respected. He added, however, that the peace of the world was not disturbed or threatened by Italy's act of guarantee.

M. Politis replied that to admit that the Council ought to abstain from intervention because one of the interested parties did not recognise its competence would lead to the ruin of the League, inasmuch as it always would be possible for any nation to pretend that the Covenant did not apply.

International Loan To Japan, U.S. Suggestion

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 6.—The Washington correspondent of the Morning Post says that a suggestion has been made in influential quarters that a practical method of sympathy would be to make to the Japanese Government an international loan after relieving the immediate needs of the people. The correspondent points out that such a loan would have to bear a low rate of interest and at far distant maturity. He believes that the United States Government would take a large part of the loan.

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Sept. 6.—Officials and financiers here foresee the necessity for Japan seeking large credits abroad and predict that the United States will take a large share in an international loan, if it is desired by Japan.

GENERAL PAN FREES CAPTIVE ITALIAN PRIEST

Father Melotto Is Released After Battle Between Troops And Bandits

(Exclusive China Press)

Hankow, Sept. 6.—General Pan Shou-tsong has telegraphed from Sinyangchow that Father Melotto has been released after a hard battle at Tungpeh on Monday. The bandit chiefs have been arrested.

Father Melotto is being escorted to Hankow.

Father Melotto, an Italian Catholic priest, was captured by bandits on June 15 while on his way to Inchen, 100 miles west of Hankow.

General Pan started out immediately in pursuit of the bandits. The captors made extravagant demands for ransom and also demanded that as part of the price for the release of their captive they be admitted to the army.

Early in August, there was a report that Father Melotto was seen at Tsaoshih, 70 li from Hankow, when bandits staged a raid on that village.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, Sept. 6.—Father Melotto has been released. The conditions of his release are at present unknown.

Later.—General Pan has telegraphed that his troops attacked the bandits at Tungpeh and effected the release of Father Melotto. The latter will be escorted to Hankow tonight.

THREE UNITS LEAVING HERE FOR WORK IN QUAKE AREAS

First Contingent Goes By The Hawkins Today

TWO TOMORROW

Preparations Made To Receive Refugees From Kobe

Final arrangements for the dispatching of three separate relief units, with supplies, today and tomorrow and further preparations for the reception of the earthquake refugees who will begin reaching Shanghai tomorrow, kept local officials and organisations busy yesterday.

The first unit to get away for the scene of the disaster will leave this morning by the fast British cruiser Hawkins and will consist of two doctors and four nurses. The Hawkins will also carry a large shipment of medical supplies and quantities of foodstuffs, purchase of which was authorised by the British Government. Just how much the Hawkins is carrying in the way of supplies is not known, but the shipment includes 2,000 cases of milk and nearly 1,000 bags of flour.

The American Red Cross unit, consisting of four doctors and twelve nurses, will sail for Kobe tomorrow morning on the China Merchants' steamer Hsin Ming, which has been turned over by the company for relief work, and which will also carry large supplies of food and medical supplies and equipment—and possibly the Chinese relief unit of eleven physicians, twenty nurses and assistants. It is probable, however, that this party will proceed to Kobe by the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia tomorrow.

PERSONNEL OF UNIT

The American unit will be headed by Dr. Morriss B. Miller, who is Professor Emeritus of Surgery of the University of Pennsylvania. The other physicians are Dr. George C. Ballard, captain in the U. S. Army Medical Reserve Corps, formerly a major in the Canadian Army Medical Corps and at present attached to the Rockefeller Foundation; Dr. A. C. Selmon and Dr. D. E. Davenport, both well-known Shanghai practitioners. The nurses are the Misses C. Powell, Pape, Anderson, Shaw, Nelson, Kelly, Lissac, Eng-

Chinese Organisations Unite For Relief Efforts

A permanent organisation to be known as the Chinese Society for the Relief of Earthquake Sufferers in Japan was formally inaugurated at a meeting of representatives of important Chinese local bodies yesterday at the Jen Chi Benevolent Institute. that he and Supervising Engineer Anderson, together with the latter's son, are safe aboard the West Prospect. Anderson is slightly injured. The shipping board office at Yokohama and all records were lost. Lynch and Anderson also lost all of their personal belongings. Assistant Agent Christmacht is following Lynch to Kobe tomorrow.

All vessels are unable to obtain water or supplies at Yokohama. Lynch advises that calls at Yokohama are unnecessary except for relief.

President Calvin Coolidge has ordered the local military department to make available all supplies possible for Japan. The army transports Meigs and Merritt are outfitting for Japan, as are the navy transports. They expect to take food and blankets and detachments to handle the distribution work.

The local branch of the American Red Cross has cabled Washington that it has available 27 doctors and 50 to 100 nurses and all necessary supplies.

Governor-General Leonard Wood today expressed to the Japanese consul here his sympathy for the people of Japan and advised him that arrangements are being made for such relief as is possible.

"The Japanese are a great and courageous people," the governor-general said in a statement which made public today. "I sympathise with them deeply in the great sorrow and loss which has come to them."

Governor Wood appointed a committee composed of representatives of all nationalities to receive contributions for the earthquake sufferers.

Consul Sugimura of Japan learns that Prince Matsukata, one of the eldern statesmen was killed.

The Mitsui Bussan Kaisha offices here are advised that forty foreigners were killed at Hakone, a mountain resort in the district near Fujiyama.

Former Premier Takahashi and 25 high government leaders, who were holding a meeting at the time of the earthquake, are reported killed in the collapse of one building.

The bluff in Yokohama, the high portion where many Americans lived, is said to have escaped serious injury, but the people there lack food and water. Volcanoes are said to be erupting throughout Japan.

The directors of the American Chamber of Commerce of the Philippines at a meeting today passed resolutions of sympathy and condolence for Japan and decided to take up a relief subscription, guaranteeing on behalf of the chamber $5,000 and calling on all American residents in the Philippine to subscribe.

Governor Wood appointed a special committee to carry on the work in conjunction with the American Red Cross and issued a statement of sympathy and condolence.

The army quartermasters corps is working day and night loading army transports with supplies and provisions for the suffering millions. The transports were expected to clear from here this afternoon. Tokio, Sept. 6.—According to an investigation conducted by the education authorities, as many as 118 primary schools in Tokio alone have been burn to ashes. When lessons will be recommenced is not yet decided however.

Nagasaki, Sept. 6, (10.40 a.m.) The messages conveying expressions of sympathy from all parts of the world and the wonderful promises of assistance in relief work, published in the newspapers, have created a very profound impression. The Japanese are most grateful.

Tokio is still without newspapers, but Reuters' telegrams, received in Osaka, are being mailed to Tokio by army aeroplane.

A Cabinet meeting yesterday is reported to have decided to concentrate 50,000 Koreans at the Narashino military Barracks.

Millionaires' residences are being thrown open to admit sufferers. Army engineers are building barracks in the open spaces in front of the Main Palace and the Shinjyuku Imperial Garden.

Troops are protecting the banks.

The Finance Minister will probably declare a moratorium for ten days, but the banks will continue to pay out sums not exceeding 100 yen.

Owing to the conflicting reports it is difficult to obtain accuracy. For instance, Prince Matsukuta, Prince Shimadzu and Baron Ono, who were said to have been killed, are now reported alive.

A member of the staff of Kokusai News Agency, who has arrived at Osaka, says that, while many of the reports appearing in the Osaka newspapers are unavoidably inaccurate, one thing is certain, namely, that the sufferings of the citizens of Tokio are not over-stated.

About half of the Army divisions are now being mobilised to assist in relief and reconstruction work and to keep peace and order. The entire Navy is engaged in transportation of foodstuffs, building material, etc.

A relief fund amounting to millions of yen has been quickly raised throughout the country.

(Eastern News Agency)

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—A special despatch to the Eastern News Agency from the Osaka Asahi states: With a view to accelerating the re-opening of all banks in the devastated districts, the Government has promulgated an ordinance, urging the banks to pay deposits of less than 100 yen without delay but allowing them ten days' grace for the payment of deposits of upwards of 100 yen. The damage done to banking circles is comparatively small.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Nagasaki, Sept. 5.—A correspondent of the Tokio Asahi tells a first-hand thrilling story of the disasters in Yokohama.

He says that the whole of Yokohama, including the harbors, turned into a huge mass of blazing fires. The Standard Oil and Rising Sun Oil Companies' godowns quickly burst into flames, which spread all round, consuming houses near by. The burning oil flowed into creeks and then into the harbor, setting fire to launches, barges and sampans, presently causing a veritable sea of fire.

Refugees, reaching the heights overlooking the completely devastated town, which was still smouldering, were frantically shouting, calling for their wives and children and their fathers and mothers. Fissures of from two to three feet wide and 10 feet deep opened here and there in the streets, which were full of charred bodies lying at intervals of every 40 yards.

The Prince Regent is reported to be contemplating postponing his wedding, which was to take place in November.

General Fukuda, the commander of martial law, states that order is quickly being restored in Tokio. Food and other materials requisitioned everywhere are now arriving in Tokio on board ships and are being distributed among the destitute inhabitants.

An Army corps of engineers is mending the railways and roads to enable transportation by land.

General Fukuda says that looting and plunder must be stopped and that martial law will be withdrawn as soon as possible. He also deprecates the spreading of false rumours, such as regarding alleged activities of Socialists and acts of violence by Koreans.

(Eastern News Agency)

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—The Japanese Consulate General here has today received an official report for the first time from Premier Yamamoto. The report reads as follows:

On September 1 at noon, the worst earthquake in the history of the Japanese Empire broke out in Tokio and the districts, on the coast of Kanagawa Prefecture with the consequence that the water supply was immediately interrupted, followed by a series of conflagrations. The damage done is very heavy.

In Tokio, the Imperial Palace and the fifty-districts of Tokio escaped the catastrophe but about two-thirds of the total area of the capital has been completely wrecked. The British, American, French, and Italian embassies as well as the Chinese Legation have been burned down. Judging from all accounts, it appears that the districts of Yokohama and Kamakura have been damaged most seriously. The Japanese government is now taking emergency relief measures.

(Eastern News Agency)

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—An "Asahi" despatch to the Eastern News Agency reports that Count Yamamoto, the new Premier, last night issued a communique, declaring that the Japanese Government, in obedience to the Throne's command, was firmly determined to do everything within its power for the revival of the Japanese Empire and that it was devoutly hoped that the people of Japan, one and all, would brace themselves up and stand shoulder to shoulder for the purpose referred to above.

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—A special despatch to the Eastern News Agency from the Osaka Asahi says that in Tokio traffic is prohibited after 9 o'clock at night.

(Eastern News Agency)

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—A special despatch to the Eastern News Agency from the Osaka Asahi says:

It is authoritatively reported that a sum of 2,300,200,000 yen of specie is stored in the Bank of Japan.

Mr. O. Ichiki, ex-Minister of Finance, has been appointed President of the Bank of Japan.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Sept. 5.—After fluctuating widely, Japanese securities closed two to ten points lower.

Tokio, Sept. 6.—Tokio and Yokohama are virtually destroyed as a result of Saturday's earthquake and fire. The casualties in both cities will run into the thousands, but no estimate is possible. The property destroyed will approximate hundreds of millions. The American embassy was destroyed.

Martial law prevails in all of the devastated cities. Tokio is now orderly but relief is needed badly.

(Nihon Dempo)

Osaka, Sept. 6.—The London Maru which left Yokohama on the 3rd with 824 refugees including Chinese, arrived in Osaka today. At the wharf there were large crowds of Osaka people who were waiting to receive their unfortunate compatriots.

As the steamer approached the port the refugees all came on the deck and they seemed to be interested in the strange views of Osaka compared with those of eastern districts. Many of them have parted with their parents, while many others are survivors of their own children and brothers. They are apparently in wonder when they think that they are still alive.

Now and then they cast hysteric glances around themselves and as often they were seen applying their handkerchiefs to their eyes. Among the refugees there are 285 Chinese and a Belgian.

(Nihon Dempo)

Tokio, Sept. 5.—The heavy rainstorm which began at 10 a.m. on September 3, has literally soaked to the bone every one of those who are now in a swarmed refuge in various parks of the city and in the premises of the Imperial Palace, where they are even without a tent to cover over their heads.

Besides being homeless, many of them have no change of clothes at all.

In consequence of the railway authorities' announcement that a free passage is offered to the refugees to go any part of the country, every railway station in the city of Tokio has been rushed by hordes of exodus. Each train departs carrying refugees to its full capacity, and those who failed to find room in ordinary compartments are travelling on the roofs of the cars. The scene of confusion at the station is beyond description.

Martial law on Tokio is now extended to both Chiba and Saitama Prefectures.

Mr. Yasuda Yoshio, head of the Third Bank has been burned to death.

(Eastern News Agency)

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—A special despatch from the Osaka Mainichi to the Eastern News Agency states that the damage done to the street car and telephone systems in Tokio amounts is Yen 30,000,000 in each case.

Outside Tokio city the most serious damage has been done to Boso Peninsula, especially to the towns of Kisaratsu, Tateyama and Hojo, where 30,000 houses were destroyed.

Two hundred and eighty Chinese refugees arrived in Osaka today.

With the object of keeping in touch with foreign countries part of the headquarters of the Department of War has been removed here from Tokio.

(Nihon Dempo)

Kamakura, Sept. 6.—In Kamakura district, Sagami province, there is left not a single house that is in sound state. Houses that had escaped collapse from the earthquakes have been burned down by ensuing fire, while many villas along the coast have been washed away by the tidal wave.

All men and women who were in bathing at the time of disaster seem to have perished. Notable structures that have been burnt include Enkanuji Temple, Kenchoji Temple, Tsurugaoka Hachiman Shrine and many other shrines and temples of historical fame for which the district has hitherto been distinguished.

Ambassador Woods At Tokio Makes Report To Washington

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Sept. 6.—United States Ambassador Cyrus Woods at Tokio has informed the State Department that the American Embassy was destroyed by the earthquake and fire in Tokio but that the entire staff of the embassy are safe and uninjured.

President Calvin Coolidge has given his approval to the plans of the American Red Cross to raise immediately $5,000,000 for relief work in Japan. The Red Cross announces that the money is coming in speedily.

Two ships laden with rice and medicines are leaving the Philippines within 24 hours.

Ambassador Woods has urged that food and clothes be sent, saying that the need is most urgent.

Japan Paper's Quake Story

The following account of the disaster in the Japan Chronicle of September 2 shows the extent of damage to communications:

Just about noon yesterday there was a very perceptible and prolonged rocking of the kind that always betokens seismic disturbance. There was little of the sharp cracking of strained window-frames that is generally noticed, but quite a marked swinging of suspended lamps.

The Mainichi states that the center of disturbance was 340 miles north-east of Osaka. At Numazu the shocks are reported to have lasted seven minutes. At Suzukawa on the Tokaido there was a big landslide, whether caused by the earthquake or not is not stated, but apparently happening at that moment. The railway track was damaged, and all telephonic communications were stopped.

(Incidentally this prevents us from giving in this issue many of the telegrams that we should ordinarily have received).

The railway track at Suzukawa is reported to be five inches out of alignment. It is mentioned that many windows in the vicinity were broken but it is only vaguely mentioned that much damage is believed to have been caused. Nothing is mentioned about houses being damaged or casualties suffered.

The center of disturbance is supposed to be the Izu peninsula, and it is reported that the chief effects were felt at Numazu, Yokosuka, Yokohama, and Tokio, though how the information got through is not explained. It was three-quarters of a second before noon that the seismographs in Kobe and Osaka began to register the shock and they did not stop till 1.30.

The earthquake, which seems to have been severest at Suzukawa, was felt thrice during five minutes on Saturday morning (1st instant) the first being at 11.58. After a lapse of 20 minutes two more shocks were felt, and at 1 p.m. there were two settling vibrations. Owing to serious damage on the railway line a 1st and 2nd class express train is at a standstill at Numazu for about two chains between Kambara and Iwabuchi stations the earth sank considerably.

Another report has it that the center of the earthquake is at Hakone-Kishima-numa at the foot of Mount Fuji. Yet another says that the center is in Mount Fuji, and that an eruption of Mount Fuji caused the earthquake:

Simultaneously with the earthquake tidal waves over 9 feet in height visited three times Mihonomatsubara, a picturesque pine beach.

In Suruga Bay the water rose 4 or 5 feet, causing high waves, and washing ashore fishing boats and even larger ships.

The radio station at Shinomisaki Point, Kishu, received a wireless message from a steamer in Yokohama harbor at 1 p.m. stating that a conflagration is raging in the City of Yokohama. It is supposed that the fire was caused by the earthquake.

Death List Includes More Relatives Of Shanghai People; Many Are Safe

Mandel Pereira And D'Aquino Families Here Grieve—Mrs. McBain; Miss Coutts, Curry Child, And Other Shanghailanders Among Refugees

More encouraging news concerning the fate of foreigners in Tokio, Yokohama and nearby summer resorts was received in Shanghai yesterday when the British light cruiser Despatch, which sped from Shanghai to the scene of the catastrophe as soon as word of the disaster was received here, wirelessed to the flagship Hawkins that the dead among foreigners would not run very high.

The Despatch's message estimated the dead in Yokohama at 70, at Hakone 3, none at Tokio, and Miyanoshita's dead toll unknown. Survivors at Miyanoshita are believed to have been cut off from relief and a rescue party from American destroyers has gone to their assistance.

today of Greece's readiness to pay the reparations determined by the Conference and her proposal for a commission of enquiry of the three Powers represented on the Delimitation Commission.

The Conference, recognising that the responsibility of States for political crimes in their territory is a principle of international law, will immediately consider the details of the proposed enquiry.

This decision has been communicated to the League of Nations.

(Reuter's Service)

Athens, Sept. 5.—There is great anxiety in the capital with regard to the decision of the League of Nations in the Graeco-Italian dispute.

Reuter's correspondent understands that with a view to meeting every eventuality, besides the sum claimed by Italy, 38,000,000 lire, the cost of the Italian disembarkation at Corfu, and 1,700,000 lire to meet the daily cost of the occupation will be held at the disposal of the Greek delegates at Geneva.

(Reuter's Service)

Athens, Sept. 5.—The Prefecture of Corfu telegraphs that all the Greek civil and police authorities have resumed duty.

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Sept. 5.—Anti-British articles continue to be published in the press in view of the attitude of Britain. The Socialist newspaper, "Avanti," alone opposes Signor Mussolini's attitude.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 5.—It is anticipated in London that the decision of the Conference of Ambassadors will settle the question of the Janina murders, but the question of the occupation of Corfu remains. It is understood that the Conference is incompetent to deal with it and presumably the League of Nations will find a solution.

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Sept. 5.—Signor Mussolini in a statement to the Cabinet today said: "As was to be expected, my statements yesterday caused a certain commotion in Britain and Geneva. Their purpose was to provoke serious dissection amongst certain foreign elements, who consented to the Greek attempt to change the pack of cards. Let us await the decision of the Council of the League, sure of our rights and with a firm and tranquil conscience."

Dark Future For British Industry

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 5.—Summarising a series of reports from the principal producing centers, the Federation of British Industries concludes that the outlook for British industry during the coming winter is certainly worse than last year. It declares that the state of Europe is the dominating factor. The uncertainty of the rates of exchange discourages foreign buyers, resulting in restricted export, while reacting on home trade. The reports show an improvement in one or two branches, notably metal trades, but generally predict the hardest of a succession of bad winters.

Dictator China's Need, Times Says

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 6.—The Peking correspondent of the Times, reviewing the situation in China, concludes that there is little hope of improvement until some leader appears as a dictator and dissolves the present preposterous remnant of a Parliament and convenes another. It is generally believed that some such development is inevitable soon.

standard quotations. With the approach of the seasonal demand transactions, though small, are being effected.

In order to prevent a further decline in the tea trade of Japan lower prices are absolutely necessary if Japan teas are to compete with other blends. This could be achieved by better and more judicial use of machinery, improved method of picking and the adoption of a cooperative plan for production and sale. The seriousness of the decline could be guaged by the fact that from 30 million kin (one kin equals 1.32 lbs.) in 1918 the tea exports of Japan declined in 1921 to 12 million kin, although last year they recovered, the total exports reaching some 22 million kin. In face of Indian and Ceylon teas Japanese tea has no chance and its only salvation is cheaper prices.

The exports of tea from Foochow district are expanding, the Chingwo area producing the best blend. In the past season there were exported no less than 6,874,432 pounds, Europe taking the bulk of these, while the United States' share in the takings being about 6 percent. The 1920 season gave some 221,738 pounds, while in the following season the exports reached 3,231,735 pounds.

Generally speaking, the tea outlook is promising. World tea consumption today is estimated at some 720 million pounds against an annual production of some 650 million pounds. Fine teas are much wanted and it should be borne in mind that much of the tea that is going out from India, China and Ceylon is of only middling quality. In the London market the common blends remain firm to dearer in price and the progressive figures during the last three years give a hint that once more under price attraction products incline to coarse plucking. It is greatly to be desired that this should not be. Fine qualities are badly wanted. The position is such that a forecast would be difficult—and unwise—because while prices of common tea are comparitive high, consumption is retarded.

There is a good demand at present for Hankow teas, the second crops fetching better prices in many instances than the first. The high values realised for the first Hankow tea crops have encouraged the teamen to go in for extensive production, and it is estimated that the third crop will exceed in quantity and probably in quality any third crop raised in the Hankow district. Some 10,000 half-chests of the third Hankow crop have already been received in Shanghai, while in the case of the first crop 265,000 half-chests were dealt in and in the second crop some 50,000 half-chests. Stocks of Hankow tea are estimated at 15,000 half-chests. From May 15 to August 10 the exports of tea from the Hankow district reached the total of 141,745 piculs, of which 44,773 piculs were consigned to the United Kingdom, 29,587 piculs to the United St

THE ART OF NECESSITY IS GREAT THAT MAKES VILE THINGS PRECIOUS

Games Tomorrow Will Be For Benefit Of Sufferers

Tomorrow promises to be a big day in sports, with the chief item on the program being the final of the hong doubles championship twice fought to a draw and once postponed on account of bad weather.

The tennis event, which is scheduled to take place on the grounds of the Lawn Tennis association at the Hotel Majestic, will start at 3:30 o'clock, which will insure plenty of time for a decision, even if every set goes to extra games and the sets go to five.

At the base ball park there will be an exhibition game between teams composed of Shanghai players, the proceeds to go to the earthquake relief fund. The teams will be as evently matched as possible so as to insure a good game. The management hopes that there will be a good turnout, as the money raised will be put to the best possible use.

The lawn bowlers will also stage a match for the benefit of the earthquake fund and from present indications a good sum will be raised. Shanghai sportsmen are determined to do their part toward helping the victims of the disaster and today's games in all probability will only be a starter toward that end.

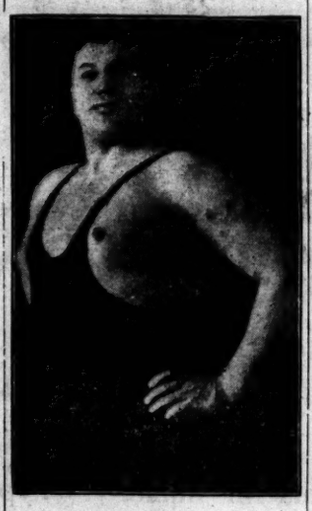
WRESTLERS TO SETTLE DISPUTE IN THE STADIUM

Peter Murmitz To Meet George Kavsadzu; Carletos To Box

The Stadium management will vary the usual boxing program for tomorrow night with a wrestling contest, two immense grapplers having agreed to settle the question of supremacy between them. The wrestling bout will bring together Peter Murmitz, who claims to be the "champion of Europe," and George Kavsdazu, who modestly admits that he is "champion of Russia" These two weigh in at about a third of a ton in the aggregate.



PETER MURMITZ

Young Carletos, who has been matched to fight Faustino de Dios on the evening of the fourteenth, will box a preliminary six round go with Alex Simpson tomorrow night. Young Carletos is a Filipino chap who has been boxing around Shanghai recently, but who has been unable to find anybody of his own weight, despite several challenges. In Simpson he will meet a boy somewhat heavier than himself, but he is confident that he will be returned a winner.

The match next week between Carletos and de Dios ought to be a good one. de Dios comes here with a fine reputation, having lost but three decisions in his 38 ring battles. He has 18 knockouts to his credit.

Here's An Offer Of Good Time To All Football Referees

The Hon. Secretary of the Shanghai Football Association has obtained from a local firm an option on a consignment of twelve sample double-cased stop watches which arrived in Shanghai a few days ago and which are specially constructed for the use of Association football referees, but also are capable of being used for all other purposes for which a stop-watch, graded as usual to fifths of a second, is necessary. As regards football the watch can be set to run for exacly frty-five mintes, which period can automatically be extended to cover all stoppages of play. Mr. Hampson has a specimen at his office, where it can be seen by anyone interested. The price of the watch, which is of Swiss make, is Tls. 7 which in view of the obvious good quality of the article is considered extremely reasonable, and includes no middleman's profit. Five of the watches have already been spoken for and the remainder will be disposed of in order of application.

Mr. Hampson wishes it to be known that neither he nor the Association is interested financially in the sale of these watches, which have been earmarked with the sole object of providing referees and would-be referees with a good watch at a reasonable figure.

Chinese Volunteers Hold Autumn Rifle Competition

The Chinese Company, S.V.C., held its autumn shoot Saturday and Sunday. Closing results show marked improvement as a whole. Saturday afternoon was marred by ugly weather but in spite of it there was a very good turn out. Sunday saw fine weather but changeable wind made it difficult to break records. The trophy of the Inter-Platoon Competition was won by No. 4 Platoon under 2/Lieut. T. Y. Chang. Keen interest was shown by men competing in this event.

Company Commander Captain Woo personally supervised the shoot. Major Stewart and Captain Zee were on the ground and very much pleased with the turn out and the excellent work of the officers and men of the Company.

As usual, perfect discipline was maintained and the shoot was carried through without a hitch. Good organisation resulted in the regular shoot being completed before noon Sunday. Recruits' scooting and Inter-Platoon Competition followed the meeting in the afternoon.

BRITISH CHINA SQUADRON GIVEN ORDERS TO AID

Admiral Directed To Buy Up Foods And Supplies For Japan

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 5.—The Chartered Bank of India has donated 1,000 guineas to the Lord Mayor's Japanese Relief Fund.

Sir Edwin Stockton, M.P., has telegraphed to Viscount Peel, suggesting that the India Office should arrange for the despatch of urgent cargoes of rice to Japan.

The Admiral of the British China Squadron has been instructed to purchase locally foodstuffs and supplies, and to proceed immediately with the fleet to Japan to place the supplies at the disposal of the Japanese Government.

Messages of sympathy continue to pour into the Japanese Embassy, including telegrams from the Lord Mayors of London, Bristol, Leeds and other cities.

£17,000 has already been subscribed to the Lord Mayor's Japanese relief fund.

The Japanese calamity has stimulated business at Lloyd's and has created the fashion of earthquake insurances. Inquiries are flowing in from all parts of the world. Business has been effected from 90d. percent for places like Florence and Athens to two percent for Japan. One of yesterday's risks covered related to property in Hongkong valued at £100,000 a 10/-percent.

There was a heavy fall yesterday in Japanese securities as a result of the disaster. Tokio and Yokohama City bonds showed falls up to ten points, and dealings became virtually a matter of negotiation. There were dealings in Tokio Electric Light scrip as low as 24 discount, though buying subsequently led to a 11½ discount.

It is pointed out that if Japan found it necessary to raise loans abroad to finance reconstruction, she would not experience any great difficulty in obtaining funds for her credit is high and monetary position strong. It is the opinion, although the Head Office of the Bank of Japan is reported to have been destroyed, that it is hardly likely that the Bank's holding of considerably over a hundred millions in gold cannot be recovered intact.

In view of the potential demand from Japan for materials for reconstruction, some markets yesterday showed a hardening tendency. The uneasiness of the marine insurance market with regard to the possibility of heavy claims is shown by the high rates for re-insurance which some underwriters are prepared to pay in respect of cargos of ships believed to have arrived at Yokohama a few days ago. One underwriter is prepared to accept a premium of 7½ percent with regard to locomotives in a steamer known to have arrived at Yokohama at the end of August, but other rates quoted range from ten to twenty percent.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Nagasaki, Sept. 6, 9.40 a.m.—The first public utterance of the Premier, Count Yamamoto, which has been broadcast by wireless, is in the form of an appeal to the people of Japan, urging the whole nation to unite in these trying hours and make a supreme effort for the relief of the sufferers and to hasten reconstruction.

(Eastern News Agency)

Osaka, Sept. 6.—The Imperial Navy is now doing everything in its power in the transportation of food-stuffs and other necessaries, which are now fast pouring in from Chosen, Manchuria, western and northern districts of Japan proper and Hokkaido. The Royal Family is quite safe and the popular sentiment throughout the country is now restful, though it was for a time greatly shocked.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Sept. 5.—Mr. G. T. Edkins, of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, presiding at the meeting of the Earthquake Relief Committee today, expressed the deep sympathy of the international communities of Hongkong with Japan.

He referred to the Mansion House and American relief measures but stated that the first material assistance must come from Shanghai and Hongkong. Arrangements were being considered for intercepting cargoes of flour and tinned provisions en route from America in order that relief might be given more speedily.

A ship of flour was due at Kobe tomorrow morning and would be diverted there. It had been decided to open a Relief Fund and it was understood that the Government, after a meeting of the Executive Council tomorrow, would open with a large subscription.

The Committee confirmed the purchase of 500 tons of rice, the appropriateness of which was substantiated by Reuter's cablegram communicated to the meeting during the proceedings reporting that refugees were pouring into Kobe and that relief was urgently needed there.

It was decided to get into touch with the local Medical Council, sending medical aid, provisions and stores, etc. Enquiries will be made as to the possibility of equipping and despatching the steamer China as a hospital ship to Japan.

Shipping companies have intimated their willingness to take cargoes free and insurance companies are undertaking the dividing of risks free, while Chinese firms are waiving commissions.

The Chinese members of the Committee undertook to get into touch with Chinese firms with a view to similar action.

(Reuter's Service)

Vancouver, Sept. 5.—The British Columbia Government, in conjunction with the Timber Men's Association, will offer a large contribution of lumber to assist in repairing the devastated regions of Japan.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Sept. 6.—In order to meet Japan's emergency, the Cabinet yesterday unanimously agreed upon the rescission of the ordinance prohibiting exportation of rice. It is unknown however what quantities of rice are to be exported to Japan as yet.

An 'Asahi' despatch states that as a result of yesterday's Cabinet meeting of the Tokio Government, the following emergency measures have been decided upon:

(1) The scope of martial law is to be extended to Chiba and Saitama Prefectures.

(2) Mansions of the rich are to be thrown open to the victims of the disaster.

(3) Barracks are to be erected in the Imperial Gardens.

(4) The fifteen thousand Koreans now in Tokio are to be quartered and protected in the Barracks at Narashino.

(5) All the banks are requested to open their respective business under the protection of military guards.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Sept. 6.—At a meeting of the Legislative Council today, the Governor expressed the Colony's heartfelt sympathy with the Japanese nation in her terrible disaster.

The Legislative Council voted $250,000 for relief measures.

The British Consul-General in Kobe, on behalf of the international committee, has sent a request for a shipload of frozen beef, mutton and poultry.

The Dairy Farm, Ice and Cold Storage Co., Ltd., has offered to the Relief Committee 80,000 pounds of frozen beef.

The steamer, President Grant, is leaving for Japan tomorrow with a shipment of frozen meat. The difficulty of securing refrigerating space is restricting larger supplies.

H. M. S. Ambrose is leaving for Japan carrying full equipment for a hospital-ship and surgical appliances for a field hospital.

The Blue Funnel liner, Meriones, left for Japan this morning with material for the re-erection of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire's temporary offices in Yokohama.

(Eastern News Agency)

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—An Asahi despatch to the Eastern News Agency says that Osaka, Kyoto, Nara, Shiga, Hyogo, Wakayama, Kochi, Kagawa, and Tokushima Prefectures have decided to act in cooperation for relief work.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Osaka, Sept. 6.—The steamer London Maru with 840 refugees from Yokohama on board has arrived at Osaka.

According to an officer of the ship, the London Maru was about to sail when the first shock was felt. Then in a few minutes the peaceful town was changed to a hell. The London Maru did all that was possible to save the living. Especially terrible were the explosions of oil-tanks, which appeared as though the earth itself had split.

(Eastern News Agency)

Osaka, Sept. 6.—The following telegram has been received here from the Chief of Administrative Affairs of the Formosan Government:

Upon receipt of the terrible news that the Kwanto Districts of Japan have been seriously havocked, the Government and the people of Formosa have decided promptly to send Y.200,000 worth of cereals to Yokosuka. Relief-funds are being raised with rapidity.

(Eastern News Agency)

Osaka, Sept. 6.—No. 18 destroyer this morning at 8 o'clock reached Yokosuka, where she handed medical articles to the infirmary there, and then proceeded to Shinagawa where she landed blankets and foodstuffs.

(Eastern News Agency)

Osaka, Sept. 6.—The warship, Hyuga, after taking in military stores, sailed today for Ujina, where she further took in 447 tons of unhulled rice for military use as well as large quantities of canned goods. The warship is expected to sail from Ujina this afternoon, arriving in the Bay of Tokio on the morning of the 8th.

(Reuter's Service)

Melbourne, Sept. 5.—There has already been a ready response to appeals to assist the Japanese sufferers. The Red Cross is cabling £1,000 to the Japanese Red Cross.

(Reuter's Service)

Riga, Sept. 5.—It is reported from Moscow that it has been decided to order all Russian ships in the Pacific to Japan with food and to send all possible assistance. Proclamations are posted in the streets calling upon the population to show their sympathy by not attending cinemas and other entertainments.

Chinese Organisations Unite For Relief Efforts

selves in any other enterprise. Mr. K. S. Zee, general secretary of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, will sail on the same boat.

Yesterday's meeting was presided over by Mr. Chu Pao-san. After a few opening remarks, he turned the meeting over to Mr. Sheng Chi-shu, who gave a report of the preliminary work done by a group of leading Chinese in formulating plans for the relief work in Japan's unprecedented disaster. He said that the provisional committee had met with a great deal of encouragement in its work, pointing out that the traditional spirit of altruism among the Chinese people was still there and the catastrophe gave her a golden oportunity to revive the spirit.

"We are doing this for three fundamental reasons," he concluded. "First, serving a neighboring nation in a way in keeping with the spirit of human solidarity at a time of distress; second, relieving the sufferings of our own fellow-countrymen in Japan and, third, demonstrating to the world the bigness of our hearts that political or diplomatic difference need not eclipse our sympathy for our fellow-men, thus paving the way for permanent peace in the world."

NEED FOR UNITY

In discussing the organisation of a permanent committee, the chairman pointed out that a united front was necessary if the work was to be carried out efficiently. One and only one organisation should handle the work, while all might give it the needed support and encouragement. He also emphasised the importance of performing the relief work at once, so that China might not be nehind in any altruistic movement.

The chairman also pointed out the chaos reigning in Japan following the calamity and stated that following conversations with the Japanese Consul-General at Shanghai, it was found necessary for all visitors and relief workers to pledge themselves not to be engaged in any other activity than relief work and not to carry any contrabands of war. The society will file with the Consulate here photographs of all authorised agents so that no unscrupulous people may enter Japan under the mask of relief workers.

MR. CHU PRESIDENT

After a short discussion, the meeting adopted the name of the society and elected Chu Pao-san its president and Messrs. Sheng and Wang, vice-presidents. A finance committee was also organised to consist of Messrs. Fu Siao-en, Ching Chen-ching, Nieh Yuan-fu, Kwan Tse-ching and Hsu Tsing-jen. Two executive secretaries were appointed. They are Messrs. King Peh-ping and S. U. Zau. The business managers will be Messrs. Hsu Chien-lin and Wang Shao-lai. Business institutions were asked to furnish clerks to assist the secretaries.

On behalf of General Ho Feng-lin, Judge T. S. K. Loh gave a report of what Chinese officialdom has been doing for the cause. Besides contributing $5,000, General Ho has issued a general appeal to all officials and organisations in the Sunkiang-Shanghai Prefecture to give subscriptions towards the fund, while Judge Loh offered the society his own services. He said that all subscriptions made by the officials will be collected by General Ho and by him forwarded to the society for proper distribution. Judge Loh's report was enthusiastically received.

Mr. C. Y. Sun, president of the International Famine Relief Committee, submitted a plan for raising a large sum of money. His plan was referred to the new committee.

ROTARY GIVES $1,000

The Rotary Club at its weekly meeting yesterday passed a resolution, contributing the sum of $1,000 for relief work in Japan to be carried out by the American Red Cross. The secretary was also instructed to address a message of condolence and sympathy to the Japanese people through the Rotary Club at Kobe.

A committee headed by Mr. J. E. Doyle, manager of the Mercantile Printing Company, was formed to compile a list of addresses of Rotarians who are ready to accommodate the refugees that are coming to Shanghai Saturday with one or more beds. After securing the list, Mr. Doyle will co-operate with the officers of the American Woman's Club and the British Women's Association in the work of housing the refuges.

Yesterday's meeting was addressed by Mr. Paul P. Whitham, president of the Asia Development Company, which has just completed the Yellow River dyke project. His subject was "Transportation in China."

The Chinese General Chamber of Commerce yesterday received a telegram from the Chinese chambers of commerce and China Guilds at Kobe and Osaka, stating that fifty percent of the Chinese residents at Tokio and Yokohama are dead and all kinds of relief are needed for the suffering survivors. They asked that a large sum of money be remitted to them at once.

Next Monday night the Carlton Cafe will be the scene of a special benefit program in aid of the American Red Cross relief unit funds. PREPARE FOR REFUGEES

Prominent local businessmen and representatives of the leading British and American women's organisations here met yesterday noon at the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank to discuss methods for the reception and establishment of the foreign refugees who are being sent to Shanghai from Kobe.

A central international committee was formed and preparations for the securing of accommodation for the unfortunate victims of the disaster were set under way. The first contingent is expected to arrive here early tomorrow morning by the Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Canada.

Among those attending the meeting were Messrs. G. H. Stitt, W. H. Trenchard Davis, Major A. H. Hilton Johnson, Messrs. A. Brooke Smith, W. J. Davey, H. von Heidenstam, A. W. Olsen, A. C. Clear, C. J. Scott, Y. Meyer and Demets. Mrs. H. G. Simms was present to represent the British Women's Association and Mrs. Gardner Crane to represent the American Woman's Club.

COMMITTEE NAMED

The central committee formed to undertake the provision of accommodation for the refugees of various nationalities is as follows: Mr. A. Brooke Smith, chairman; Mr. Winter, secretary; Messrs. J. Harold Dollar (American member); H. von Heidenstam, (Swedish); M. Shuto (Japanese); Dr. E. L. Tartois (French); M. Demets (Belgian); F. Schwyzer (Swiss); C. Knipschildt (Danish); Giachino (Italian); Thoresen (Norwegian), and E. J. Commissariat (Indian). Mrs. Simms and Mrs. Crane were named to represent the B. W. A. and A. W. C. on the committee.

Mr. Brooke Smith stated that a telegram had been received by the Honskong and Shanghai Bank yesterday morning to the effect that about 700 refugees had already arrived in Kobe and that the first batch would arrive here by the Empress of Canada tomorrow morning. It was difficult to do anything before definite word was received as to the number of those refugees, but a wireless message had been sent asking for information in this respect and in the meantime it was necessary to go about securing funds.

Mrs. Simms stated that the B. W. A. and A. W. C. had held a meeting and that many offers of accommodations had been made; the clubs were prepared to meet the boats as they arrived and assist in any other way possible.

SUPPLIES GOING

Supplies to go by the Hsin Ming tomorrow will include 1100 cases of milk, oatmeal and corned beef purchased by Mr. Carl Crow and Mr. Paul P. Whitham, of the Red Cross unit purchasing committee and a large quantity of rice flour etc. furnished by the Chinese organisations.

Messrs. Andersen, Meyer and Co. yesterday contributed Tls. 1,000 worth of medical supplies which will accompany the relief expeditions from here.

In connection with these and other consignments for the relief of the suffering the Admiral Oriental Line, Canadian Pacific line and China Merchants' company have offered to transport supplies free of freight charges, earning eloquent expressions of gratitude from the various organisations engaged in relief work.

Word received by the local offices of the Canadian Pacific line yesterday carried the information that the Empress of Canada arrived in Kobe at 7 a.m. on the 5th and sailed for Shanghai at 6 a.m. yesterday. She will arrive at Woosung at about 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and the tenders should reach the Customs jetty at about 10:30 o'clock. The Canada will land here 28 first class passengers, 66 second class and 128 steerage. It is not known what proportion of these are refugees.

The Empress of Australia, which reached Kobe from Yokohama Monday morning, brought to that port 587 European and American, 31 Japanese and 362 Chinese refugees. Many of these, together with others brought to Yokohama by other ships, are expected to reach Shanghai by the Canada and following vessels.

September 6, 1923

Spot bar silver was up 1-16d and forward 1-8d in London yesterday. The New York price was unchanged and the London New York cross rate was changed to 452½.

Our official quotations here today were unchanged from yesterday. Our market was again erratic throughout the day although on the whole firm.

There were generally sellers of Sterling at 3-11-2 September, 3-13-8 October and 3-11-4 November December. There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 703-4 for rear and forward deliveries. Some business was done at around these rates. These were, however, the lowest rates at which business was transacted.

The highest rate for Sterling was 3-11-2 for December delivery and the highest rate for Gold Dollars was 713-8. There were, however, good buyers at these rates.

The Yen market was practically nominal with banks quoting wide differences between their buying and selling rates. There were generally sellers of Yen at 681-2 for near and forward deliveries and buyers at 671-2. Banks were quoting 3-21-4, 723-4 and 1320 for Sterling, Gold Dollar, and Franc bills respectively.

China bought silver in London yesterday and India sold, the market closing steady. New York report their market as steady.

Exchange Market

In their weekly report on the exchange market, Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows:

Exchange:—The London price of silver has advanced ¼d. during the week, today's quotations being 31⅞d. for spot and 31 15/16d. forward. The official T.T. rate on London at 3s. 1d. shows a rise of ¾d. since this day last week. After a long period of quietness, the market during the last two days has been very active and somewhat erratic. Speculators have been heavily with the result that T.T. on London is offering at 3s. 1½d. near. Banks are asking 3s. 2d. for 4 m-s. paper and 72¾ for 4 m-s. New York Bills.

The market closes steady at these rates but the outlook appear most uncertain.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 27,201,000, an increase of Tls. 2,326,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $39,000,000, an increase of $110,000.

IS YOUR BABY HEALTHY?

Here Is a Test

Happiness is a sign of health in babies: if they are fretful and restless it is a sure indication that something is wrong.

Usually the cause of a baby's sleeplessness, crying, irritability, is stomach or bowel troubles, or teething pains. Baby's Own Tablets quickly restore restful sleep and the joyfulness of health to babies by dispelling stomach troubles, feverishness, constipation, colic, or diarrhœa. They make teething easy, break up colds and expel worms.

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are obtainable from druggists, or post free at 60 cents the vial from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Coal Market

In their fortnightly report on the coal market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows:

Japan Coal:—This market has been very quiet during the past fortnight and no business of any importance has been done:—as regards the future—in view of the appalling calamity which has just befallen Japan—it is impossible to say at present when business can be resumed.

Fushun Coal:—No change.

Fuchung Anthracite:—No change.

Kaiping Coal:—Shipments from Chinwangtao are very steady and besides filling supplies under yearly contract, which pass into immediate consumption, a fair percentage is finding its way in to stock. Better grade Lumps and Nuts are now available in small quantities which are filling a demand for ocean bunkers.

Freight Market

In their fortnightly report on the freight market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows:

There is little or no change to report in the export markets to Europe and America and the tonnage on the respective berths is sufficient for all requirements: there is, however, some slight enquiry for space to Europe for seeds, October, November shipment, which looks a little more hopeful.

Coastwise:—There is practically no change to report since our last issue:—exports to Northern Ports are fairly good but from there Southwards there is practically nothing offering principally owing to the floods, mentioned in our last, and because it is as yet too early for the new season's crops to come into the market, these also have been affected by the floods and are likely to be below normal according to latest advices.

Every Morning at Breakfast take a draught of SANATOGEN

This will give you that extra nerve-energy which makes you feel "fit" and fresh all day and it will save you from Heat prostration

SANATOGEN in the morning means a better day's work—means that you feel brighter, fresher, and keener all day, in spite of the exhausting heat, while your powers of resistance to typhoid, cholera, dysentery and nervous disorders will be enormously increased.

TRY IT!

SANATOGEN'S power to increase nerve-energy has been definitely proved, in the words of Sir Charles A. Cameron. C.B., M.D., etc. President of the Royal Institute of Public Health:—

Sanatogen is an excellent nerve-food of the highest nutritive value, easily and completely digested.

GET A BOTTLE TO-DAY

ALL CHEMISTS SELL SANATOGEN

Never forget that Sanatogen is a food, not a medicine or a "secret remedy." It increases nerve-energy by feeding the nerves—not by goading them with drugs or stimulants. Its action is as natural as that of any ordinary food: it must do good, and it cannot do harm. That is why doctors give it even to babies. And that is why so many Europeans in the East take Sanatogen regularly, all the year round—not as an occasional "tonic," but as a part of their daily diet. You should do likewise, if you want to keep your nerve-energy at the highest pitch, and to avoid the debilitating effects of the great heat

WEATHER

Fine and hot weather. The typhoon on the Pacific will continue to advance W.N.W. wards in the direction of the Bellington Channel. No telegram from Japan.

Community Of The Pacific

FROM our exclusive despatches of this morning it would appear that there has been a general disturbance from coast to coast in the Pacific Ocean. Ships are being torn from their moorings in the harbor of San Francisco. From all over the Pacific messages are being received of strange swellings and new currents. The probability is that some new islands have appeared and that some others, well known on the charts, have disappeared.

Meanwhile, we have estimates of 240,000 dead in Yokohama and Tokio. According to the experts in the Imperial University of Tokio the main disturbance took place at Oshima, one of the islands of the Idzu group. The island of Oshima was, like the others in the group, of volcanic origin. It was in fact a volcano. On and around this volcano, 50,000 Japanese had built their homes. It was one-half mile high and five miles in diameter at its base. It fell into the ocean and disappeared—or it exploded. All of the old islands in the group disappeared and new islands have come up.

And now we get word that the upheaval has crossed the Pacific. Ships in the Bay of San Francisco are being tossed about. No great disaster on that side as yet. But interesting to comtemplate. The community of the Pacific . . .

And then the telegram from Moscow about new groupings of Powers in the Pacific. How the Olympians must rock!

Is Germany Dodging?

HOW the Germans in the Ruhr have devoted their labor to making capital improvements instead of producing marketable goods is clearly brought out in the report of the American Commercial Attaches in Berlin and Paris following a visit to the Ruhr. By joint action of the German Government, the unions, the industrial employers, the municipalities and the railroads, says this record, the working population of the Ruhr has been extending galleries of coal mines without mining coal, repairing and rebuilding the roads, railroads, canals and terminals, and in various other ways devoting to betterments work that would otherwise have gone into production. Inasmuch as a good portion of this work was paid for by special subventions from the Government, it is clear that the loss of immediate profits to the industries in the Ruhr has been compensated by the increased productive capacity given to the plants and equipment in that region.

The same story has come from other parts of Germany. While financial affairs have been going from bad to worse and saving has become impossible except by investing in real estate and factories, the natural thing to do has been to make over all that could be renovated, and to put into new equipment and new undertakings what would otherwise have gone into production. All this means that when the currency chaos is ended and the nation resumes production its capacity will be materially enhanced. German property has changed hands and some German fortunes have been annihilated, but the wealth-producing machinery is in better shape than ever.

The apparent paradox in the fact that Germany is financially ruined but economically sound arises from a failure to distinguish between money and wealth. It is quite true, as the well-known German economist Professor Bonn pointed out some time ago, that the former moneyed classes in Germany have been virtually wiped out. The depreciation of the mark operated as a form of confiscation. Bonds—including those of the Government and municipalities—paid for in gold were redeemed in paper at a fraction of their value. The professor indicates that in such cases it might be claimed that the community as a whole profited by the misfortune of the individual. "But," he adds, "great estate owners and great industrial enterprises earning abundant profits, have followed the State's example and paid off their bonded indebtedness with worthless paper. Our fathers would have called such a procedure theft." Such confiscation, he says, strikes a blow at capitalism. So also does it destroy the habit of saving and undermines the sanctity of contracts. Creditors are robbed by debtors.

The real wealth, the productive capacity, of Germany has not been impaired. It has rather been enlarged. A stable currency and a cessation of resistance to the Allies will make it easy for German industries to obtain the necessary credits for the purchase of the needed raw materials and will make it possible for the German productive machine to operate again at high speed. There is, and will be, much suffering. The middle classes in particular face a dismal future. Into the hands of the gamblers and speculators, the new rich, has gone the wealth that formerly kept alive the German professional classes. This is a terrible thing for the German nation and a loss for the culture of the world. But it does not affect Germany's capacity to pay, which, after all, is the thing of greatest moment to the world at present.

More Truth Than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

He's a regular Apollo,
Or as such he likes to pose;
Women's eager glances follow
Everywhere he ever goes,
They appear to think that heaven
Opens when he turns to smile;
He has married six or seven,
Each for just a little while.

Mabel, Geraldine and Jessie
Claimed he wasn't true enough;
Alice, Ethel, Maude and Bessie
Thought he treated 'em too rough.
There are rumors at this writing
That another lovely one
Is in training for the fighting
That is later to be done.

When they sue him he refuses
To be worried or upset;
He is free from any bruises,
And he clings to no regret.
He has habits that are sprightly,
He is handsome, slender, tall;
He takes marriage very lightly—
Seems to want to try them all.

Well, it may be that his system
Is a proper one and fair;
Possibly he can't resist 'em
When they show him that they care,
Steadily he keeps achieving
Conquests that wind up in court,
And no doubt he keeps believing
He's a darned good sport.

Words From The Lips Of Wise Men

Tomorrow!
It is a period nowhere to be found
In all the hoary registers of Time,
Unless, perchance, in the fool's calendar. —Cotton.

The smallest effort is not lost,
Each wavelet on the ocean tossed
Aids in the ebb-tide or the flow;
Each raindrop makes some flower grow,
Each struggle lessens human woe. —Mackay.

Overlook a man's weakness, forget his mistakes, and speak to him of his good qualities. Then note how that man will strive with all his might to live up to the good opinion you have of him.

It is the opinion, the interests, the ideals and the goodness of the average man and the average woman which make the character of the nation.

The Trans-Siberian Journey

Actual Experiences And Practical Hints

BY A RECENT TRAVELER

I.

Perhaps part of the redness of Red Russia as we have seen it through the eyes of travellers has been due to their having seen red when trying to straighten out matters of baggage and tickets at a Russian station. At any rate, the trip from Peking to Moscow is one of those which the traveller may now take without the lightest perturbation and with a minimum of discomfort and annoyance.

The closing of the trans-Siberian route greatly lengthened the distance from Peking to Europe, and many are now wondering whether the long and tiresome water trip cannot be avoided again by returning over the old route from Peking to Moscow.

Residents of Peking and travellers to and from the Far East have long felt the inconvenience of being unable to return by the shortest route home, namely, across Siberia; and now with the return of normal conditions in Russia are wondering whether the trans-Siberian trip is feasible.

The writer recently completed the trip from Moscow, and can give some of the essential details. The entire trip took thirteen days, including two days between Peking and Harbin and Manchuli, the station on the Siberian border; a day between Manchuli and Chita; a day's wait in Chita for connections, and seven and a half days' express trip between Chita and Moscow.

The accommodations were uniformly good, the worst on the entire trip being on the Mukden to Peking run in one of the first-class cattle cars put on this line for the Peitaiho service; the best was on the South Manchuria Railway with exquisitely decorated dining rooms and perfect service in the sleeping-cars. The trains of the Chinese Eastern Railway from Changchun to Harbin and from Harbin to Manchuli are very good. Between Manchuli and Chita three trains run a week, one of which has a wagon-lit, the others having very indifferent accommodations, similar to the above-mentioned Peking-Mukden cars. From Chita to Moscow the traveller rides de luxe in a wagon-lit with running water, private wash-rooms, electric lights, roomy compartments, and good service; the train also carries a dining car with simple but very good cuisine.

A ticket can be bought in Peking through to Harbin costing first-class $58.00. From Harbin a ticket can be booked only to Manchuli, where one must buy to Chita and pay in silver or gold rubles. At Chita again the traveller buys to the border of the former Far Eastern Republic and pays in silver or gold rubles; while beyond the border, which is just east of Lake Baikal, his fare must be paid in Soviet rubles. The following is a statement of the cost of the writer's fares from Moscow to Peking; it is not likely that the reverse trip would differ much in price:

Points	Currency	Amount	Value in $Gold
Moscow-Verchneudinsk	Soviet paper-rubles	3,900	$31.42
Checking baggage			3.00
Verchne-udinsk-Chita	Gold rubles	29.50	16.00
Chita-Manchuli	Silver rubles	28.50	15.50
Manchuli-Harbin	Dollars Mex.	28.00	15.00
Harbin-Peking	Dollars Mex.	58.00	32.00
	Total		113.00

It is not guaranteed that these prices are fixed; certainly the price in Soviet rubles will probably be double this by the present month; but the general cost will be about the same.

The traveller will have to change at five places, Mukden, Changchun, Harbin, Manchuli, and Chita; in addition to this his baggage will be subject to three customs examinations: the Chinese, the Russian at Manchuli, and the Russian examination at the border of the Far Eastern Republic, an hour the other side of Verchne-Udinsk. It is therefore wise to travel in the continental rather than the American way; that is, with as little baggage as possible, and that confined to hand-baggage. The difficulties of watching after hand-baggage are as nothing compared with those of 'seeing after' one's trunk or trunks incessantly; there is also much more danger of theft, loss, and delay involved with trunks than with hand-bags.

At Mukden the traveller will probably find it most convenient to put up at the Yamato Hotel, run by the South Manchuria Railway, just opposite the station; also at the Yamato Hotel at Changchun in case the stop at that station is overnight; this hotel is also near the station. In Harbin the traveller can inform himself of a number of good hotels, notably the Grand, which is near the station, and the Modern Hotel, which is better but further from the railway. At Manchuli he will find indifferent or no accommodation; one side of the town is Chinese and the other Russian, and it would be a hard choice where to spend the time did the authorities let him wander about. But traffic before the war did not stop at Manchuli, and consequently there is no accommodation. It is essential, therefore, to inform one's self beforehand at Harbin when the wagon-lit train leaves Manchuli for Chita, and plan to make quick connections at Manchuli without more delay than is absolutely necessary.

From Manchuli to Chita, unless chance puts a restaurant car on the train, the traveller will have to feed himself for twenty-four hours, and had better provide beforehand. After he leaves Manchuli the traveller must remember that he is out of the Far East, and consequently there are no more tiffins; luncheon will take its place, and if he asks for tiffin he will probably get a glass of Russian tea and a biscuit. It is advisable to take a thermos bottle and a canteen for holding liquids; outside of these the traveller need not encumber himself with paraphernalia, as he can get all the food he wants after the train leaves Chita. When the writer came out, the table d'hote luncheons on the diner of the express were costing thirty-five 'rubles' (short for million-rubles) or about twenty cents gold.

At Chita the traveller will find at the Central Hotel as good accommodation as any, and he can eat at the hotel as well or better than anywhere else in town. At this juncture it is highly advisable to look up any Americans or Englishmen in the town for advice on purchase of tickets, accommodations, what not to take, how much to pay for things, etc. The Americans and English are glad enough to hear any news of the outside world, and are the only persons who will put the traveller on the right track without expecting something from him in return.

Arrived in Moscow he will find a number of hotels with running water and electric lights—such as the Metropole, the Bristol, and the Saxe. Here again the advice holds good, of looking up one's fellow countrymen for information, pointers, and congratulation. Thomas Cook does not operate on the Trans-Siberia line, so the traveller must do his own travelling.—Far Eastern Times.

Once Overs

BY J. J. MUNDY

You have little pains and little "cricks" here and there, and you have fallen into the habit of thinking that you are fast approaching an age when you will not be able to do much.

You are pushing yourself into a helpless stage by your thoughts.

The human system is about the same in all individuals.

If you have no unusual ailments you are about as well off as most people of your own age—perhaps you are in a better condition.

The aged automobile squeaks and creaks. It cannot be speeded up as it could when it was new. Careful attention to it and good care means prolonged service.

So it is with your own body.

You cannot expect to speed up as you did twenty or thirty years ago.

Now and then there are bound to be aches and pains that you have not experienced before.

But why throw up your hands and admit or encourage the thought that it is old age and you are rapidly creeping downward.

Head up and heart light is the good form which will make you seem young.

Something To Think About

By Bruno Lessing

HOW TO LIVE

Watching a railroad train flying swiftly across the landscape. Thousands and thousands of tons of steel rushing at fifty miles an hour, carrying precious human freight. Boiling water the force which hurls it on.

Yet, neither steel nor boiling water can think. The engineer, with his hand upon the throttle, does all the thinking for that mass of weight and force. He is the brain, the mind of the train.

We can build trains and huge ships and flying machines but we cannot build a thinking power for them.

A certain species of whale in eastern oceans frequently reaches ninety feet in length. It weighs 150 tons. Its mouth is 15 or 16 feet deep. And yet this huge bulk, the biggest living creature known, is animated and guided by a small mind, about as intelligent as that of a bright fox terrier or bull-dog.

You have a fair idea of how much the average person weighs. Many are too fat. Yet their brain weighs from 49 to 50 ounces for the men and from 43 to 45 ounces for the women. (That is a subject to be thought about all by itself.)

So you see that man, too, has that preponderance of bulk in proportion to his brain, that the railroad train and the whale have. Not quite, but enough to illustrate the point.

Man devotes a tremendous amount of his time to feeding his bulk and clothing it and adorning it and keeping it fit and and amusing it. How much time does he devote to his brain? Well, for the majority of the human race, the answer is simple.

For a few years—usually between the ages of 6 and 14—they wash their faces reluctantly and go reluctantly to some school where with an eye upon the clock, they reluctantly improve their minds. That's about all that the greater portion of mankind does for its brain. After that period, it is satisfied with newspapers, magazines, theaters and moving pictures.

Is it not amazing? When you consider that a human being's mind is all that he possesses to distinguish him from a mechanical toy of some kind, that it is the great feature which distinguishes him from all other human beings, that it is the source of all his accomplishment, that it is the only part of him which is really important and that its capacity is boundless—considering all this, would you not imagine that a sane race would devote most of its time to cultivating and improving and strengthening and beautifying this possession?

Don't blame it on the climate in China if you do not feel as well as you wish to. If you feel physically or mentally tired, it proves that your diet is not properly balanced. Try a cup of OVOMALTINE with or between your meals, get a tin TO-DAY from your chemist or storekeeper.

The Poisons That Kill A Language

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

Sojourning in France, I find that thoughtful French people are troubled about their language. It is a beautiful language, and they know it, and are very desirous to keep it beautiful. It also is, by general agreement, regarded as one of the most lucid of all the world's languages in the expression of the thought behind the words. Its preferential use in diplomacy is a proof of that. But the same Frenchmen who fear that their language is threatened in its beauty are also in a state of anxiety concerning its retention of the exquisite clearness that so long has characterised it.

Abel Bonnard, discussing a French book, which goes so far as to ask in its very title, "Is French a Dead Language?" says. "If we look for the agents that are doing the most harm to French, we perceive that the greater number proceed from the same cause—the desire or the need to astonish, to force the attention of an absent-minded public. It is not for nothing that we are living in the age of placards."

And the fact is that the business of advertising as now practised in all civilised countries, and not alone in France, although in some ways, it has risen to the level of an art that counts beauty among its accomplishments, is quite capable of Barnumizing any language.

The old complaint about slang (argot) is strongly revived by the new defenders of the integrity of the French language. No doubt there is much more than common reason for this complaint at present. Not only did the World War give rise, in all the principal languages, to a flood of new words and expressions (not all of which are to be classed as slang), but following the war has come an eruption of incontestible slang and reckless solecism which the most liberal-minded lover of good language cannot regard with equanimity.

Ordinary slang is not an agreeable subject to talk about, and fortunately the spots that it leaves usually fade out quickly, though sometimes remaining permanent in a language and eventually turning into things of genuine utility and even beauty. But there is another kind of innovation which gives little offense on its first appearance and may even be received with enthusiasm, although inherently it is a poison. This is presented by Mr. Bonnard as follows:

"A language gets bad principally through the effects of inflation, and the a peu pres (the 'pretty nearly,' the 'just about'). Nothing is more characteristic in this respect than the jargon of politics. The a peu pres reigns master there . . . where the most important thing is, never to cut off one's retreat, to designate nothing too expressly, to be always in shape to go back on what was said."

Mr. Bonnard gives examples of equivocating words that have taken the place of those that conveyed a definite meaning. Fog substituted for solid ground. But these would be appreciated only by those who read French. The efforts of the ingenious persons who strive to build up languages artificially out of broken-up materials of the languages that have had a natural growth, get no encouragement, as is shown by an amusing allegory in which Mr. Bonnard depicts a grand seigneur riding through the changing landscape of a language that is going from good to bad and from bad to worse:

"At first the horses travel in fine form, the route is firm and rings beneath their feet, the grand seigneur, borne swiftly and smoothly in his coach, confidently looks out for clear and beautiful views. But after a while the landscape appears to have undergone a change. It has become more confused and more upheaved, while at the same time the road is less smooth and level. At the side of the route Rhetoric and Emphasis, their heads adorned with plumes, and attended by blacks magnificently habited, invite the haughty voyager to descend.

"But, it is impossible," he says, "for me to stop in such a place!"

"He makes a sign, the coachman lays on the whip, and on they go. But now, where is he? The road loses itself, the team advances no more. In the lurid glimmer of twilight appears a shapeless country where land and water are confounded. The traveller puts his head out of the coach window; not a sign of smoke, not a roof in sight! Around the coach of the human mind stuck in the mud arise only the croakings of Esperanto!"

NEW GEMS by O. HENRY

A Treasure-Trove of Humor From His Newly Discovered Newspaper Writings

AN UNPARDONABLE BLUNDER

THE polite stranger who called to see the city editor rose to his feet in alarm as he heard some man who was just leaving the room complaining at a terrible rate. He was roasting the paper from editor to devil" and calling down all sorts of maledictions on the heads of everybody connected with the office.

"Don't be alarmed, "said the city editor as he drew a match from his pocket and asked the stranger for a cigar, "that's one of the most prominent and well known citizens in the city. You see we had a man interview him yesterday to get his views on a certain subject, and he made the reporter solemnly promise he would not print what he said in the paper."

"I see," said the polite stranger. "And it got in owing to some mistake and was published and made him mad."

"No," said the city editor, "it was accidentally left out."

DELAYED

There's a good time coming so the optimists all say;
When everything will be alive and humming.
And we'll have lots of money and sing and dance all day;
It may be so—but it's a good time coming.

RECOGNITION

The new woman came in with a firm and confident tread. She hung her hat on a nail, stood her cane in the corner and kissed her husband gaily as he was mixing the biscuit for supper.

"Any luck today, deare?" asked the man as his care-worn face took on an anxious expression.

"The best of luck," she said with a joyous smile. "The day has come when the world recognizes woman as man's equal in everything. She is no longer content to occupy a lower plane than his, and is his competitor in all the fields of action. I obtained a position today at $50 per week for the entire season."

"What is the position?"

"Female impersonator at the new theater."

W. L. George and His Wife

HELPING A HUSBAND

Mr. George (ingratiatingly): You know we're meeting Mr. Bays at dinner tonight, don't you? He's president of the commercial Bank, and I think he knows something about the water works scheme that I'm thinking of buying stock in. You know you don't help me enough in my business, so you ought to find out from Bays if the scheme's all right. You ought to do that sort of thing; you ought to boost me a little, tell him how well I am doing, how clever I am. And a woman who wants to help her husband ought to write his letters, keep his accounts.

Mrs. George: I do, darling, I do.

Mr. George: You don't, darling, you don't. You only search my desk for stamps. You're neglecting a great hobby—your husband's career.

Mrs. George: Very well, darling, I think you're quite right. To-morrow I'll engage a housekeeper, and in future I'll go to the office with open your correspondence, and read it for you, telling you what to do, go out to lunch with you, and you shall pay. And, and if there are any other little things I can do to help your business, just tell me, and I'll be delighted to do them.

As for Mr. Bays, you may care to know that as I was saying good-bye to his wife yesterday he came in. And since we were alone I thought I'd talk to him about the water works scheme, because I knew you were thinking of buying some stock. He told me all about it, and of course as usual I've been quite right in telling you you ought to go into it. Mr. Bays told me that if you don't buy stock you'll be missing a very good thing.

Mr. George (furious): who told you to talk to Bays; How dare you push in and interfere? You keep ont of my business and I'll keep out of your kitchen. (Bolts from breakfast.)

Perfume And Colour

How many people associate a colour with their favourite perfume? When you come to consider it, these are very closely allied, and there is no reason why they should not blend together and become characteristic of the person who uses one and wears the other.

For those who love the purity of lavender, what could be more charming than to carry out the favourite colour with its kindred scent. Line your handkerchief sachet with quilted mauve, tied with matching ribbons of paler shades, carry the scheme out in your eiderdown, hangings, and cushions, and your lavender dreams will become a very pleasant reality.

Even if your scent is one with which no flower can claim kinship, it will probably subtly suggest a colour to you.

There are colours that you never wear, but the ones which you like and which in your mind blend with the chosen perfume will be associated with you in a most enchanting manner.

Your friends will associate you with your favourite perfume as much as with your favourite colour.

They will think of the girl who looks her best in violet, and who is always accompanied by the fragrance of dew-spangled wood violets.

There is a perfume which suggests amber or orange, and that accounts for a love of these colours. With their background of oak and dull browns, little touches of these warm shades can be easily introduced into a room, as well as into wearing apparel.

An Englishwoman is supposed to be a poor judge of perfume; therefore let her pay greater attention to this important item in her toilete. There is nothing quite so unpleasant as a cheap scent, except a mixture of scents.

In these days we have to be economical; but do not let colours or perfumes clash. If you cannot afford to match your powder, soap, perfume, etc., buy a good perfume and use a pure unscented soap and powder, or discard the perfume and have the soap and powder scented only, though these all enhance their fellows wonderfully when they can be used in conjunction.

A great thing in a hard and drab-coloured world is to introduce and cling to your little bit of colour. That colour will cheer you when you go home after a trying day, and it is very surprising to notice what small things make all the difference.

British Women's Association Notes

An emergency meeting was called at Headquarters yesterday consisting of members of the B.W.A. and American Woman's Club when measures were discussed to deal with the situation arising out of the terrible catastrophe in Japan. The question of housing the foreign refugees was gone into and it was decided to arrange the necessary accommodation for them prior to their arrival here.

The vaudeville and cinema program arranged for Friday the 24th and which had to be cancelled owing to the typhoon, will take place tonight at 9:30 in the grounds of the Majestic Hotel. AMERICAN SCHOOL AT TSINGTAU HAS LARGER FACULTY

Academy Opens Sept. 10 With Largest Enrollment Thus Far

The Tsingtau American Academy opens its third year on September 10, with an enlarged faculty and a greater number of students than ever before. The two new buildings near the Strand Beach and Race Course are now being prepared for occupancy, though the school will probably not enter them before the middle of October. They are admirably situated in a beautiful part of the city near the Race Course where the students play football and baseball, and near the Beach where swimming and water sports are engaged in.

The school hopes to add a kindergarten this year and is now considering several applicants for the position. The faculty is composed of the following:

Charles D. Glauque, B. A., Principal, English Oberlin College.

Elizabeth G. Dadisman, M. A., Assistant Principal, Science, History Washburn College, Kansas State Teachers' Life Certificate.

Leslie W. Peck, M. A., English and Mathematics, University of Georgia.

George A. Telberg, D. Jur., Languages, University of Moscow.

Gladys A. Fisher, B. A., Upper Grades, University of Colorado.

Mrs. William E. Winter, Lower Grades, Diploma Watertown, N.Y., Normal School, Special Diploma in Industrial Arts, Teachers' College, Columbia University, Cornell University graduate work, New Jersey State Teachers' Life Certificate.

James R. Glauque, English Department, Columbia University, Chicago University.

Mrs. M. I. Bergen, M. Ph., Bible (part time), Lake Forest University.

Mrs. Magnus Johnson May Run Farm

Minneapolis, July 18.—When Magnus Johnson goes to Washington to take his seat in the United States Senate he may go alone. Mrs. Johnson has not yet made up her mind as to whether she will accompany him, as there is the farm to look after.

"Looking after things" on the Johnson 140 acres at Kimball has been Mrs. Johnson's contribution to her husband's campaign. He says that by assuming that responsibility and leaving him free to make his campaign she "put him over."

Mrs. Johnson doesn't take any such credit to herself. Mrs. Johnson may not be interested in women in politics; she says she never had time to worry much about such things.

Mrs. Johnson is a quiet, plain sort of woman. She says very little. She was born on a farm near Kimball adjoining that on which she now lives. She has never lived anywhere else. Her father was born in Maine, her mother in Kentucky. She is a direct descendant of General Israel Putnam of Revolutionary war fame. She married Magnus Johnson in 1899. They have six children.

"The boys run the farm and the girls do the housework, while I take care of the garden and the livestock and sort of manage them," she said. "We've got along very well. We've only had to hire outside help once this summer."

Besides looking after the farm and raising her children, she has time to devote to the schools of her township. They have a consolidated school up there and Mrs. Johnson is clerk of the school boards. Between them, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have held that job twenty-two years, but aside from that she has had no particular interest in public affairs.

Reports Of Coup In Bavaria False

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 5.—Reuter's correspondent in Berlin denies the report published in the Chicago Tribune on Sept. 3 announcing a monarchist coup in Bavaria.

Reuter's correspondent says that the report doubtless arose from a parade of 100,000 members of the Bavaran defence organisations in Nuremberg on September 2, the anniversary of the French surrender of Sedan. The parade was watched by General von Ludendorff, Admiral von Scheer and many other prominent military officials of the old regime.
